Economy in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE
SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order; should make A TIGHT LOCK STITCH, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.
It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk, directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin with rapidity, and without changing the tension. The needle should have a perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.
It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, shoul, tuck, cord, run and gather, and always ready to work.
It should be easy to thread, using the same thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk at will or below to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.
It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.
It should have a wheel-feed; no fibers are in constant contact with the work.
It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 27, 1862

The Loud-mouthed Rebels in the Last Congress

Where are they? Not in the battle field they do not put themselves into the deadly breach, but they find a resting place in the civil government of the "confederacy." R A Pryor is quiet, we hear nothing from Wigfall; Yancey is dodging about Slidell and Mason are visiting France and England very much at their own expense, Keitt and Rhett are not heard of, and Davis has thrown off responsibility by putting it upon Toombs Lane, whose body was to be used in the rebellion, is planting treason in Umpqua. The men who have started the rebellion are pretty much out of sight—having managed to push others into the ranks and bear the brunt of the war

Admirable Impudence

The Advertiser wants to be carried in the Union mails, when it prays that that Union shall be destroyed.

The Democrat wants to be circulated by the United States Government, while it shouts for the Confederate Government, as the "glory of the land"

The Gazette demands that the Government shall be at the expense of circulating it, while it insists that the people of Oregon shall follow in the footsteps of J C Breckinridge, who is in the rebel army fighting against the same government. These are measures of admirable impudence.

A Gloomy Picture.—An intercepted letter written from Charleston, South Carolina, to a friend in Bordeaux, France, represents a frightful state of things in the rattle-snake emporium. The writer says that existence is "such as to become a burden" "Butter 50 cents a pound," "tea $2 50 per pound" "common calico 50 and 75 cents per yard," "the happiness of the people destroyed," "commerce at a stand-still," "without money or without credit." Such are the controlling figures in this sombre picture. And darker shadows will be added to it ere many weeks As Charleston was the first to offend, so will she be the most heavily punished As she sowed the wind, so will she be made to reap the whirlwind.

Secession Desolation in Missouri.—The Springfield correspondent of the St Louis News writes:

"From our last night's camping place (near Little York) we discerned seven fires—all around us The nearest was a farm, where outbuildings, grain stacks, and the house were all fired at the same time Friend and foe are treated alike; farm-houses, cornfields, fences, in short everything that might be of the least use to the Union army—to the army whom they always have ridiculed publicly and feared secretly—is destroyed, and a desert thirty miles wide is separating us from the retreating foe Where the hand of industry had commenced to place its mark of civilization, now only proofs of diabolical barbarity are visible."

The Advertiser says that any man who will rejoice at the success of the federal arms, by which such barbarous acts as are here stated are prevented, "is worse than a traitor"

Secret Secession Societies.—The Tribune publishes the records of the 'Southern Rights Association" of St Helena Parish, S C, which were seized in a lawyer's office at Beaufort, when our gunboats first visited that place. This piece of history shows that the organization has existed since 1850, and that there has been for years a plan and preparation for the treason which found an excuse for its action in the election of President Lincoln. Among the members are the Rhetts and Barnwells, and many others who have held office under the Federal Government within a few years

The Missouri and Indiana papers contain accounts of the discovery of certain secret political associations, called "M P's," and "The Emmanant," the objects of which are opposition to the war and resistance to the collection of taxes for its support The developments are of a very serious and silly character John G Davis of Indiana, the head of one of the treasonable organizations, has stepped out into Secessia, and there is little danger that any harm may come of the societies which will not accrue to their members

The Advertiser has called its cohorts to "action" The Knights of the Golden Circle understand this call These "dark lantern" gentry can be found in all the leading towns in this State

It is ascertained that sundry individuals who sign themselves as Douglas democrats to the Secession call, never voted for Stephen A. Douglas at the last presidential election, but worked and voted hand in hand with Breckinridge ever since the secession of his clique at Charleston

"Parson Brownlow"

Wm G Brownlow, Esq, of Knoxville, Tennessee recently arrested and imprisoned on a charge of treason to the Confederate Government, has been discharged from custody by order of Secretary Benjamin The manner in which he fell into the hands of the Confederate authorities is explained in a letter written by him from the Knoxville jail, and of which the following is an extract

"I left home about the 5th of November with a view to collect some claims due me of five for advertising and to relieve the fears of my family, who were daily annoyed with the calls of drunken soldiers, calling before my house and flourishing their side knives and pistols and making threats of violence The last week in November I received a letter from Brigadier General Carroll inviting me to return, and promising me protection from personal violence On the 6th of December I received a brief letter from Major General Crittenden, inviting me to his headquarters in Knoxville, promising me passports into Kentucky and a military escort to conduct me safe At the same time I was furnished with the copy of a letter to the Major General from J P Benjamin Secretary of War advising him to give me passports and a safe conduct beyond the Confederate lines

"Supposing the head of the War Department and the Major General commanding here to be acting in good faith, I repaired myself in person, and accepted the offer of passports I agreed to start on Saturday and the General designated Capt Gillespie's company of cavalry for the escort But on Friday last, just before sundown, I was arrested for treason, found guilty on certain ex parte affidavits in the Knoxville Whig since June last the warrant being signed by Commissioner Reynolds and Attorney Pansey I am therefore, in jail—in close confinement—perfectly contented, and making no complaints against any one, I am waiting patiently to see which is the highest power the War Department in Richmond associating with the Major General in command here, or the Commissioner's Court for Knoxville Any, I am anxious to know whether the high authorities inviting me here were acting in good faith or were only playing off a trick to have me incarcerated"

The case of Mr Brownlow having been taken up in court, the District Attorney read a letter from Mr Benjamin corroborating the statements above made as to the circumstances of Mr Brownlow's arrest, and entered a nolle prosequi He said he did this that the faith of the Confederate Government might not be violated in this case He did not agree with the authorities at Richmond, however, in supposing that Mr Brownlow could not have been arrested The Court discharged the prisoner

Southern Abolition.—"Malakoff" the usually correct Paris correspondent of the New York Times says, that Jeff Davis has sent a document to the governments of France and England, and, "as a last resource, as a last bait by which to catch the sympathies and the recognition of the French Government, a plan for the gradual emancipation of slavery in the new Confederacy There is not a particle of doubt that this ruse will be adopted, if all others fail But the amusing part of it is, that one of the Secession papers indiscreetly let the joke out by stating that the period at which emancipation was to be final was fifty years hence."

The San Francisco Bulletin has this comment upon this proposal of Jeff Davis—"That the rebel leaders will resort to emancipation as a last means of success, there is no reason to doubt This was predicted by the ultra Abolitionists many years ago, that is to say, Garrison, Wendell Phillips, and others of that ilk, have always opposed Congressional concessions to the slave power, by the assertion that it was dominion and not production for slavery that the South wanted, and by the prediction that the slave States would in due time break up the Union, whether or no, and destroy slavery itself, unless they could continue to be political masters of the white race within the Union. Certainly the prediction is fulfilled, so far as the leaders of the rebellion are able to effect it"

Horse Thief Arrested.—A friend writing from Amity, March 24th, says "Sheriff Warren, of Yamhill county, passed through this place with a prisoner yesterday on his way to Roseburg, having been apprehended upon a warrant from Douglas county, for horse stealing His name is Robert Duncan. The horse was found in Polk county, where it had been sold by Duncan for $40 Duncan is the man who is suspected of having stolen the horse from opposite the ferry landing at Salem on the 10th inst The evidence is very strong against him."

Changed its Course.—The Visalia Delta says that during the recent flood Tule river has changed its course, and that so completely as not to leave even a sluice stream in the old bed It now turns out from the former channel at a point nearly two miles above Goodlue's Crossing, and striking off at right angles from its former course, runs nearly due west, crossing the main road at a point about three fourths of a mile south of Murray's residence Whether it continues this course to the lake, or heading north again enters its former channel, no one seems to know If the former, it will render valuable an immense body of Government lands which have hitherto been useless

Heavy Loss.—Mr Edward Huggins, agent of the Hudson Bay Co at Fort Nisqually states on Monday last that he did not think he would be able to save a thousand head of the Company's sheep It is well known that this Company heretofore have been the largest sheep owners on the Pacific coast On the Nisqually Plains, last fall, they had about 7 000 head 6,000 or more of which have already died It is not yet known what their loss in horses and cattle will amount to but it will probably equal in value that of the sheep.—Puget Sound Herald

Letter from the Dalles.

The John Day's River Mines and Powder River can be prospected now—Remains of frozen men found.

Dalles, March 24th, 1862

It is hardly to be presumed that any considerable number of those who have their faces set 'Salmonwise' will act upon or profit by hints thrown out by your Dalles Cor and remain in this vicinity until it is really time to go O, no sir! They are 'smarter nor that" 'He's interested'—'Wants to keep them at the Dalles to spend their money" 'Lying newspaper scribbler any how" Very well That's true I am interested We are all interested, but that don't render it impossible for any of us to tell the truth, as thousands of those who are now rushing along will soon learn

Now about John Day's river mines 'We here at the Dalles would rather there were one dollar taken out on John Day's river and Powder river than two dollars at Salmon—This town would be more benefitted by it That's acknowledging enough

But since we claim that it is too early to go to Salmon, I would suggest that if men will not wait, but will go somewhere, would they better try John Day's river first To go to the latter place is practicable now The trail is without doubt as easy and as free from snow as it is from here to Walla Walla The snow did not fall very deep there this winter it being only ten or twelve inches deep when parties left there a little more than a month ago Animals wintered there, and, in fact, some horses that were broken down when they got in there last November were, in February, able to bring a pack to the Dalles Game is plenty there Elk abundant The distance from here is not great, being about 175 miles.

But the miner will say, "How about the prospects for gold" That has been already published The only prospecting that has been done there paid about 10 cents to the bucket, in a bed of gravel ten feet deep, taken from the top down, and paid about the same on the top as at the bottom The gold is in even grains and of a kind easily saved in sluices There is plenty of water there, and any amount of ground The opportunities for working are good. There is plenty of water in the river, and plenty of fall so that sluicing will be easy With regard to the extent of paying ground, nothing is known, but some of the party who wintered there, say that there is ground enough at Otter Bar alone, which, if it will pay at all, will afford room for a thousand men to work Parties of fifty or a hundred would not be likely to stand in danger of Indians, as they prefer to attack where there is no danger of harm to their own savage skins.

The remains of some of those unfortunate men who were lost between Des Chutes and John Day's river have been found, but in such a mutilated condition as not to be recognized In one instance, only a leg and an arm were found, and another body much eaten by wolves

Secesh is chopfallen since the news by last arrival They don't like the activity manifested in the Federal army They don't like the way the battles result They are beginning to learn that Yankees will fight

The little old Wasco towed up about 100 tons of rails for the Dalles and Des Chutes railroad, yesterday This is the first shipment of railroad iron in Oregon, and I might add that this road will be the first section built of the Great Trans Continental Railway The world moves S

Peoria Precinct Meeting

The Union men of Peoria Precinct, Linn county, met and organized on the 23d inst. Bluford B Mark, Chairman, and John F Backenstos, Secretary

On motion, H B. Polly, John F Backenstos, and G W Klum, were chosen delegates to the County Convention and the following resolutions unanimously adopted

Resolved, That it is the duty of all loyal American citizens to sink the "partisan in the patriot," and give a hearty support to the lawfully constituted authorities in suppressing the rebellion and enforcing the laws

Resolved, That treason is no less a crime, whether committed by an individual or by ten millions and the instigators of this rebellion should suffer the ignominious death of the gallows not merely as an act of vengeance but a warning to deter ambitious and unprincipled politicians from raising their parricidal hands against our Government in the future.

Resolved, As self preservation is the first law of nature, it is the right and duty of the Government to suppress from the United States mails all matter of a treasonable character, which has for its object the propagation of sedition and rebellion, whether done in the false name of peace democracy, or open and avowed support of the rebels.

Resolved, That we adopt the language of Douglas "There are only two sides to the question every man must be for the United States or against it There can be no neutrals in this war only patriots or traitors"

Resolved, That it is impolitic for American citizens (Union loving men) to talk of making treaties of peace with traitors and that the only terms here to them should be in the language of Gen Grant to Buckner at Fort Donelson "An unconditional surrender and we will march upon your works"

Resolved, That we pledge ourselves to a cordial and active support of the nominees of the Union State Convention to be held at Eugene City on the 7th of April.

Growth of the Serpent

The Rev Dr Sprague of Albany preached a sermon on Thanksgiving Day which has been published It is the ablest and most elaborate discourse that we have ever read from his prolific mind and graphic pen One passage so fastens itself on our attention by the rhetorical force and singular fitness of a figure, that we must copy it

Again the golden mouth furnishes a striking illustration of the vast growth of evil That gigantic evil with which the nation is now struggling I may safely say had a small beginning—possibly it began in deep silence and amidst doubts and conflicts and gloomy forebodings which it took much time and much hard dealing with the conscience to extinguish I suppose it is generally admitted that the terrible monument was inaugurated, more than thirty years ago, by a great Southern politician, a man of comprehensive and powerful intellect of fine social qualities and every way unexceptionable in private life, but still possessing insatiable ambition and boundless cupidity His first demonstrations in favor of disunion were met by a firm and a hand that awed the treason into policy, not indeed out of existence but into temporary silence I do not wish to utter harsh words over any man's grave, or to heap coals upon the memories of those who have gone to render their account—I cannot tell in what fulness of light that great man of whom I speak may have looked at his favorite project, and as the result fancied that he could justify it to his conscience but I see that, it added to deals justly with him who sows in his field that that serpent whose deadly fangs have now struck into the very heart of our republic, was generated At first, it was so small, impalpable, unacknowledged but still there was life in it a life that was essentially venomous, and it crept gradually gaining strength until the structure began to move And as the years passed away it gathered nourishment from other than that in which it was born, and a species of ominous ultraism at the North contributed materially to its growth, until, at length, the day came when it worked its way fully into the daylight and struck its fangs, to the full extent of its deadly venom, across the land,—a huge monster combining the poison of the viper with the reconstructive crushing power And now for many months it has been darting its tongue of fire, and hissing out its bitter threats and making a desperate effort to infold the whole nation in its deadly coils I trust in God there is a spirit awake, before which with all its virulence and strength it will be obliged to quail, but, meanwhile, it shows in the impressively plain words can do not only how the spirit of evil chooses the darkness as its appropriate element, but how it sometimes accomplishes wonders before its existence even has been fairly detected What a lesson of warning is here to us to be vigorously on the signs of the times, and to keep ourselves in an attitude for resisting evil whenever wherever, or however it may manifest itself

A Favorite Remedy.—We believe no medicine in the world has ever given such astonishing proof of its efficacy as DR. HALL'S BALSAM In cases of severe Coughs, Bronchitis and the incipient CONSUMPTION this medicine acts in the most prompt and agreed manner restoring health when all other remedies have failed

CIRCUIT COURT—FIFTEENTH DAY.—State of Oregon vs. J. P. Sheppard—jury trial upon an indictment charging defendant with setting a certain device with "dice" Jury trial and found guilty, as charged in the indictment

The case of the State of Oregon vs. J. P. Sheppard was continued over to the next term of the Court, the defendant being required to give bail in the sum of $1,500

The Board of County Commissioners vs. the Steam Navigation Company This case was set upon by the plaintiff and defendant for the purpose of testing the question of the right of the plaintiff to levy certain taxes upon defendant's property incorporated in the Territory.

The balance of the day was occupied in hearing and determining motions, and the trial of causes.

CONSOLIDATION OF THE OREGON TELEGRAPH COMPANIES.—The whole amount of stock, $75,000, has been taken. The company was organized last night by choosing, W S Ladd President, H. W Corbett, Secretary, H. W Corbett Treasurer, and J. McCraken Superintendent.

The following gentlemen were elected as Directors: W. S. Ladd, D. F. Bradford, H. W. Corbett, Simeon, Chester N Terry, A. L. Lovejoy.

The material for the line is already ordered and is probably now on the way. Mr. Strong will begin operations as soon as the weather will admit. It is designed to have the line in full operation by the completion of the work.

ARTICLES ROBBED.—We understand that a trunk of Mr. Coffin, in this city, was broken open before last by some person or persons, and sundry articles, such as shirts, collars, cuffs, kerchiefs, to the value of about $50, taken from the line. We suggest to citizens not to leave their linen out to dry at night—take them in "out of pawn."

The play of "Pizarro, or the death of Rolla" is announced in the bills for to-night. Mrs. Forbes will take the part Elvira, Mr. Forbes Alonzo, and Mr. Beatty that of Rolla, and Miss Cora will appear as Cora! A very strong cast is represented in this piece. Mr. Forbes will take the character of Pizarro in a masterly manner, it is said, and it is one of his favorite parts. It is hardly necessary to say that Rolla will be well played.

Miss Cora as Bianca, in "Fazio," had the audience, and in the latter acting was splendid. Mr. Beatty did well his part, as usual.

ELECTION IN SANDY PRECINCT.—Messrs. Ladd and R. J. Wilmot are the delegates from Sandy precinct to the Union Convention in this county.

KIND WORDS

BY [illegible] TEMPLETON

Why should we speak with angry tone,
While pulsing through this erring world?
Or the chilling look of scorn be shown,
Or the curling lip in passion curled?
'Tis better, far to speak in love,
Than let an angry passion move

Speak kindly to the little one
Whose heart is budding into life,
Whom I regard as my own
In life's warm, busy, bustling strife
Speak kindly, lest an angry word
Should nip the flower while yet in bud

Speak kindly to the withered brow—
Once rosy in life's vernal morn,
But, by rude care, its furrowed now
And oft is pitiful to unfeeling scorn.
Speak kindly, for you can tell the power
Of kindness in this sunset hour

Speak kindly to the child of grief
Tossed on Adversity's dark ground;
Kind words will prove a sweet relief
The soul, once dark with ill, will gleam
A pleasant spot will oft unfold
To meet to love the heart of ice

Kind words will cheer in sadness hour
When even Hope's bright ray is had fled
They heal the wounds and cause a flower
Of gladness on the lowly head
Oh! then speak peace to sorrow's scar,
For 'twas the Saviour's example here

BROWNSVILLE, Oregon, March 12th, 1862

Cure for Lock-Jaw.

FOREST GROVE, Washington Co
Oregon March 11th, 1862

MR EDITOR—Last Spring, Mr Vaughn, of Yamhill County, brought a lot of mares to be bred to the Jack, and in trying one of them she kicked at me to which one end of the pole was attached. I discovered that she was injured and had her put in the stable. This was late in the evening and the next morning she exhibited a most violent attack of the lock-jaw, so that she could scarcely get out of the stable. The first thing that I did was to bleed in the neck. Col Cornelius happened to be at my house and assisted me. We next cut the cords in her ears and between the nostrils, but all to no purpose, every indication was that she must die soon By this time it was with difficulty that she could get up, and would only remain a few minutes and drop down again, and when she could not get up any more, and every attempt to raise her was fruitless, I went to the house and took down an old farrier book by R. Mason, M D, and turned to lock jaw, but found that he gave very little encouragement Among several remedies, cold water was one, and being somewhat partial to the cold water system, I thought I would try it I accordingly got two buckets of water from the well and teamed them on the top of the head and neck from as high as I could raise the bucket, and in fifteen minutes repeated the application I then waited half an hour and applied the same amount, when I discovered a change for the better These applications were continued at intervals, of half an hour till bed time, and by this time she could remain on her feet about half the time I continued to apply the water occasionally for about a week, and in one month she was entirely well So much for cold water.

Yours respectfully,
T G NAYLOR

HOW WE PERSPIRE.—All over the surface of our bodies there are scattered millions of minute orifices which open into the delicate convoluted tubes lying underneath the skin, and are called by anatomists, tubi sparous glands, Each of these tubes, when straightened, measures about a quarter of an inch, and as according to Erasmus Wilson, whose figures we follow, there are 3,528 of these tubes on every square inch of the hand, there must be no less than 882 inches of tubing on such a square inch. In some parts of the body the number of tubes is even greater, in most parts it is less Erasmus Wilson estimates that there are 2,800 on every square inch, on the average, and as the total number of such inches is over 2,500, we arrive at the astounding result that, spread over the surface of the body, there are not less than twenty-eight miles of tubing, by means of which liquid may be secreted, and given off as vapor in insensible perspiration, or as water in sensible perspiration In the ordinary circumstances of daily life, the amount of fluid which is thus given off from the the skin (and lungs) during the twenty-four hours, varies from one and a half to five pounds, under extraordinary circumstances the amount will of course rise enormously Dr Southwood Smith found that the workmen in the gas-works employed in making up the fires and other occupations which subjected them to great heat, lost on an average three pounds six ounces in forty five minutes, and when working for seventy minutes in an unusually hot place, their loss was five pounds two ounces, and four pounds four teen ounces

RAT KILLING RECIPE.—Dr Kellerman, of N Y, gives the Agriculturist readers his method of expelling rats: "Cut clean fine sponge in pieces of pea size, fry well in hog's lard and expose it in infested places about the houses, barns, granaries, gardens, etc, keeping cats and dogs shut up The rats eat it greedily, but do not as readily digest it, the gastric juice, and especially water, if accessible to them to drink, swells the sponge, and a noisome putridity is the result The dose proves fatal in most cases."

A miss who was seen weeping, wailing and wringing her hands richer on the departure of a regiment, was asked what relatives she had there, replied "Cousins, for aren't they all Uncle Sam's boys."

"Miss," said a Cicerone, "why are the girls so fond of officers?" "How stupid, sir," said she, "is it not natural that they should like good offers."

"Husband, I can't express my detestation of your conduct" "Well, dear, I am glad you've found your match."

What's the difference between a clergyman and a conjurer? One is a divine, but the other is a diviner

Coughs.—The sudden change of our climate is a source of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to 'Brown's Bronchial Troches,' or Lozenges, for the Cold Cough, or Irritation of the Throat before they fasten their hold on the system. By this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

To the Republicans of Oregon:

The undersigned were instructed at the last State Convention to Convene the Republicans of the State at their next meeting at Eugene City

Events that have transpired since the meeting of the last State Convention could not then be foreseen and issues are now presented to the people paramount to all issues that heretofore divided political parties.

While we claim the right to dissolve the Republican organization, nor do we see any cause to recantany political principle heretofore held by us, yet believing that the vital issue now before the people is the preservation or destruction of our institutions, we are unwilling to do anything to distract the Union sentiment in the coming canvass, and therefore have deemed it unwise to call a party convention with a view to the support of a distinctively Republican ticket

In taking this course, we have been guided by the expressed wishes of Republicans throughout the State, and an anxious desire on our part, to avoid any barrier to the hearty support of a Union ticket by the loyal support of the State without regard to former political differences.

History verifies the fact that the fathers of our common country, supposed that they had cemented a perpetual Union; that are only traitors who have now attempted to overthrow it; we therefore call upon one and all to the support of the priceless inheritance bequeathed to us by the founders of this Republic He that neglects for any trivial cause at this time, to testify his devotion to our country, to a government that has made us the most happy and favored people on the face of the Globe, is not worthy the name of American citizen! We therefore trust to the intelligence and patriotism of the loyal people of this State, to show by unanimity at the coming election and election, their abhorrence of secession and treason, their love of country, its prosperity and perpetuity

We therefore earnestly recommend to the Republican voters of the State, that without regard to party, they abowld in the coming canvass, heartily unite in nominating and supporting a ticket composed of Union men who stand the test embraced in the call which is herewith published.

Of all diseases the Ruling cause,
Springs from ignorance of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility Syphilis in all its stages, Stricture, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism Scrofula Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Fauces Throat Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs Cancers, Dropsy Epileptic Fits St Vitus' Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling Loss of Memory Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes Loss of Sight, Wakefulness Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes It matters not from what cause the disease originated however long standing or obstinate the case recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than it can be effected by any other treatment even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure The medicines prescribed are pleasant without odor entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or bad effects During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the African States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption scrofula and many other diseases and should be a terror to the youth and family Again in the married state there is scarcely ever effected a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer to a rapid consumption but should the disease and the treatment not have such an effect, the system is left in a state of existence so miserable that death itself is preferable With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a speedy restoration and speedy cure can be effected with the aid and treatment of myself, only patients are to receive a robust vigorous health

Irregularities, and all diseases of females treated on principles established by fifteen years practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures—Medicines, with full directions, sent to any part of the State Oregon and Washington Territory by addressing their symptoms by letter

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease who, having in vain sought relief in other health restoring agents, and their statements authenticated by Notary Public Dr. Edmonds has so unquestionably convinced their publicity and we commend such persons to the attention of all afflicted

Certificate.—The undersigned, all citizens of the county of Sacramento who have been afflicted with various complaints, and who have in vain sought relief in other remedies, and by other treatment, do hereby certify that we have obtained perfect health by the use of Dr. L J Czapkay's remedies, and from sincere gratitude for the cure we have received, we take pleasure in recommending him to the public as a skillful physician

Dr. L J Czapkay, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine, and do not think I should require more as I feel very well except that I have not yet got my strength yet but soon will with the use of your medicine. It is just three weeks you may recollect, since you instituted with my constitution, as I was then very much enfeebled, and never thought you would bring me perfectly, but the night you might be able to do so because the pain in my back and head, and nervousness was such that I would not get excited and trust anything Now that you know what I have been subject of my satisfaction at my complete recovery, the symptoms and the removal of those sores and ulcers from my skin, and the gag of those eruptions which you said were the cause of my sickness I can hardly tell you the greatest joy or my surprise for except not having got my strength I feel as well as any man can feel

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your fee, which I think myself is cheaply cured If you think my case can be benefitted by it you may put this letter in the newspapers, and I give my name cheerfully yours, THOMAS

Thankfulness is the Incentive to Gratitude.

GENTLEMEN —Prompted by an honest desire of doing good, I wish to bring before the public a case which I consider my duty to make known not only as an act of scientific skill in my humanity also About two years ago I was afflicted with a disease unknown to me, was seized with a fit of sickness which, owing to my inability to meet the necessary consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and to the want of judgment which I met with on attempting it, (such I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician I was frequently, while in pursuit of my business thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning and although insensible to the agonizes, I yet pursued the practice of my life, and soon learned to look upon death as I would neglect or shelter me from the storm of winter I sought to prolong the existence of my family While in this state and having previous to my misfortune resided in the State of Illinois I once more was induced to seek aid of a physician and, by recommendation of Dr L J Czapkay I told him of my disease and of my inability to remunerate him for his services which he at once undertook my case, and in the course of time I was once more restored to health Unable to reward him for the boon which I received at his hands on account of my indebtedness, I am due to my old and ill afflicted, to make the case known that those in need of medical advice may repair to him with every confidence can be placed
